Greenwood Cemetery.

In cities the size of Clarksville, parks are, in a degree, supplied by the cemeteries. Greenwood Cemetery is just now a great resort for afternoon drives, and is a very attractive place in its vernal costume of grass and flowers. The cemetery covers about thirty acres of ground at a convenient distance from the city and is tastefully laid off with broad gravel carriage-ways. It contains a number of handsome monuments and marble shafts in memory of the loved and honored dead who are buried there, and we doubt if many more pretentious cities have a more beautiful resting place for those who departed. Within its lovely precincts lie the remains of Gov. Willie Blount and Hon. Gustavus A. Henry. A number of men who have been prominent in the history of the city are also buried here. The citizens of Clarksville are also buried there. The cemetery is well kept and attended to. The number of flowers, plants and shrubs in the inclosure receive careful and constant attention, and the superin-tendant has all that he can do to keep them in proper order. He deserves commendation for the neat and well kept appearance the cemetry now presents.

The Board of Mayor and Aldermen.

The regular monthly session of

assembled in the city hall Tuesday afternoon. Mayor Howell and a full board were in attendance. After the reading of the minutes the report of the Treasurer of the school board was made. The board showed $18.18 to the credit of the city in the First National Bank.

The report of the school board showed $8,000 necessary for school purposes during the next year. The largest amount of this expenditure will be for teachers' salaries. A revenue of $18.75 was granted Mr. Polk G. Johnson on an office which he occupied for county purposes. A resolution was passed to loan the South Western Presbyterian University four iron lamp posts and to take Dr. Waddell's receipt for same expressing, as a condition of the loan, that they be returned in good order. The city ordinances require that the tax rate be fixed at the regular May meeting of the board and some time was consumed in the transaction of that business.

The rate was fixed at one half that of the State.

An ordinance relating to Meri-weather & Gilmer the land between the street and the river passed its first reading. Nothing else of importance was done.

Industrial Home.

The Christian Messenger, under the able management of Rev. J. R.

Goodpasture of this city, is engaged in a commendable effort to establish an Industrial Home for Widows, Orphans and Indigent persons in Clarksville. To this end it is proposed, in the last issue of the Messenger, to give one half of the sum taken in on subscriptions to that journal from the 10th to the 15th of this month, to the advancement of the scheme. The subscription to the Messenger is $2.00 per annum.

All parties who wish to aid in a charitable enterprise and secure a good religious paper at the same time should subscribe.

The Courts.

The Circuit Court has been in session since Monday. The cases tried have been of but little importance and of no particular interest to the public. A special session of the Chancery Court was held Thursday to try a particular case set for that day. Judge Stark presided at the request of the Chancery Court. The Criminal Court, which adjourned Monday, to give place to the Circuit Court, will be opened this morning for the hearing of motions. It will then adjourn till the 21st when the docket will be

Prof. Emery's Concert.

We have been listening to amateur concerts in Clarksville for eighteen years and we have always had good singers here, but the affair of last Thursday night unquestionably surpassed all we have heard before. The audience was not as numerous as we hoped, its numbers being thinned by a heavy shower which occurred early in the evening; but that which did assemble was select and appreciative, as a proof of which it was the first concert we have heard here at which the best music was the most applauded. The "Ave Marie" of Gounod was unquestionably the gem of the evening and this was the one piece which elicited an enthousiastic applause. This piece was arranged for violin, violinello and piano; in the absence of a cello, that part was played by Prof. Emery on the violin part by Mr. Rosenplanter and the piano by Mrs. Rosen-planter. The composition was exquisite and the execution of it perfect. Mr. Rosenplanter's violin was heard with delight in several other pieces, but we must hasten to notice the admirable orchestral and choral music. In the former department were given the overture, "The Rose Tree," and "The Rose Tree," with four violin, flute, four on the piano, and reed organ; two or three brass instruments were all that was needed to give the effect of a full orchestra, and in any case our people derived a better idea of what a good overture really is than they could obtain from anything hitherto heard in our city.

The choruses consisted of several of Mendelssohn's best songs, and especially the grand Hallelujah of Handel, in which last piece the orchestra and chorus united. The perfection with which these classic compositions were given is the reward of consummate skill and unwearied labor devoted by Prof.

Emery to the training and drilling of singers and players.

The solo vocal music was rendered by Miss Jennie Bailey, the Misses Visser, the Misses Wilson and Mrs.

Tyler, whose names alone are sufficient commendation of that part of the entertainment. We would especially mention the Duet "See the Pale Moon," by the Visser sisters, and Calcutti's "The Red Cross Knight," by the Misses Wilson and their brother. Miss Bailey's solo was also highly appreciated. As for Mrs. Tyler's singing, we thank her heartily for rendering, as what a delightful vocalist we used to possess in Miss Mollie Settle.

We trust this is not the last concert which Prof. Emery gives us, being satisfied that the appetite for such music is one which grows what it feeds on; but, however that may be, we are only expressing the sentiments of the whole audience when we thank him for a most delightful evening's entertainment.
